School is back in session. Around the world, students are returning with their backpacks on their shoulders to join their peers in their places of learning.

This is the time and place to pursue your studies, expand your knowledge, and build your character. But it is also about developing friendships, enjoying your freedom, and discovering what you really like.

Once the final bell rings, does that mean your time of learning and growth is over? Absolutely not. And as a matter of fact, the times when we step outside of the familiar boundaries and explore beyond what is presented to us, are often when we grow and learn the most. Many lasting lessons are the ones that we earn through the school of hard knocks.

The MV Mag is familiar with this. We charted a completely new path when we started, and. through exploring our limits, learning from our mistakes, and constantly pushing ourselves further as a young mind would, we have come this far. Yet, we are still eager to see what else we can accomplish.

For this issue, we have a packed schedule. Starting off with a day of classes and a trip to the library with Christina Cinn, then sports with our cheerleader Brielle Day, and once school's out, it's time to play some video games with Hidori. And so much more.

So we present to you, THE SCHOOL DAZE ISSUE.

Welcome to the MV University.

Pay attention, 'cause class is in session!

> I really wanted certain teachers to keep me after class and get really close to me.

MV 1. School years tend to be when we find out the most about ourselves and who we really are. How would you describe yourself while you were in school?

CC In school I would have described myself as really nice to everybody. I was a little shy but still friendly and I was really into hanging out with my friends (maybe a little bit more than paying attention to really tough math problems). I was often too busy checking out my fellow classmates to pay attention to education.

2. Were you in any cliques?

I wouldn't say I was in a clique, I was very open to talking and hanging out with everybody. I was very open and friendly but I always had a very close group of friends that I really trusted with all of my deep and dark, dirty secrets. We always had each other's backs.

3. What was your least favorite subject in school?

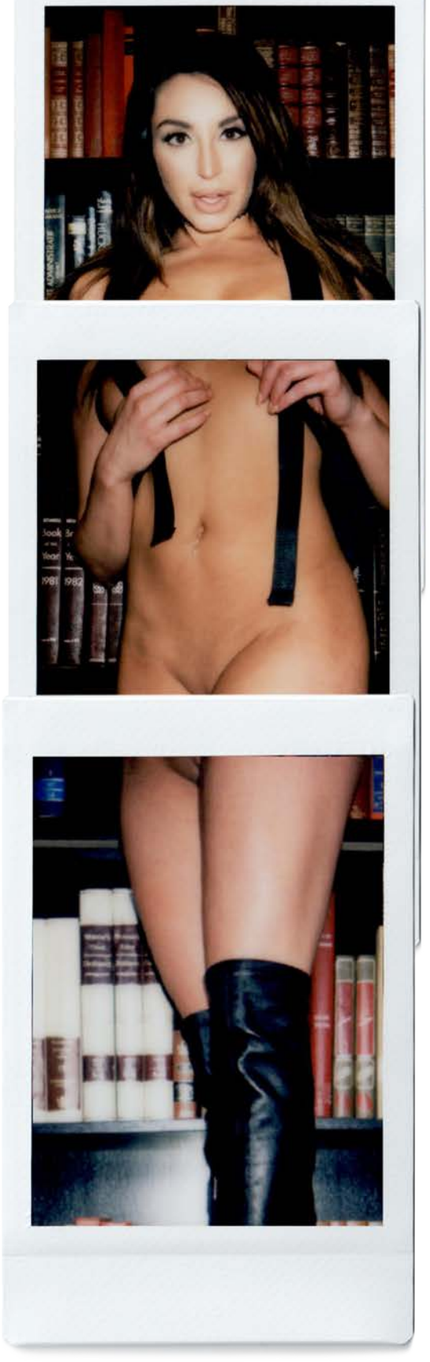
My least favorite subject in school would have had to be math. I really struggled. Perhaps part of my struggles came from my really hot math teacher. I just couldn't seem to focus! Hmmmm... I wonder why?

4. Were you a promiscuous student?

I actually wasn't a very promiscuous student. I was really focused on activities and spent my school days daydreaming about life outside of a small town. I really enjoyed fashion! At that point, I had made out with both boys and girls but I never went all the way until after high school.

5. Have you ever been attracted to an authoritative figure or a mentor at school?

Of course! I really wanted certain teachers to keep me after class and get really close to me. Sometimes I would feel so turned on turning my papers in just because I was finally getting close enough to the teachers I had my eye on. I wish I would have acted on it, but it was just a lustful crush!



6. In your shoot for the MV Mag, did you prefer playing the role of the horny teacher or the innocent yet naughty schoolgirl?

I really enjoyed both! I loved being the horny teacher because I really like to masturbate with the chance that one of my naughty students will catch me. They're giving me such a hard time and I really just need that release. But on the other hand, I also like being that innocent yet naughty schoolgirl who is just discovering her body for the first time and feeling each and every sensation so intensely.

7. At what age did you discover masturbation and what is your favorite way to do it?

I discovered masturbation at a very young age. I was so fascinated by looking at my vagina in the mirror I thought it was just so adorable and cute. I wanted to keep touching it and playing with it and one day I touched it so much that I had what I know now, was an orgasm. I couldn't stop and I actually wanted to do it all the time. Sometimes I would close myself into the bathroom stall at school and touch myself while watching my movements in my hand mirror!

8. When you watch porn, what is your go-to keyword search?

My go-to keyword search is always the same: LESBIAN!

9. How would Christiana get herself out of trouble with the sexy teacher in detention?

Getting myself out of trouble was always very easy. I can be very interesting and persuasive. I would just look them right in the eye, adjust my top and my skirt and say "I'm so sorry I did not know I was doing anything wrong, I promise I'll be good girl from now on".

10. What advice would you give to a younger you when it comes to being a student and dealing with boys?

The advice I would give to myself would be to not worry about boys. Trust me when I say, they are so horny they will come to you!

11. If you could go back in time and change your path what would you have loved to study in?

I would love to be more focused on studying different languages, especially French! There is a reason they call it the language of love!

12. As a successful porn star, a lot of new porn starlets look up to you. If you were to start your own porn school and be the teacher, what would your most important lesson be?

My most important lesson for my students would be: focus on your goals and who you are as an individual. That is what makes you original, and helps you to stand out!

13. Congratulations! You've graduated from MV University - What sexy degree did you earn?

Chemistry, and Anatomy. With extra credits and an A+ in Gender Studies!

Cum have some naughty after school fun!

Why Gamers are the Best Lovers

We all know that gamers are special. They might seem slightly weird or awkward sometimes, but don't let appearances fool you, because gamers are hiding some serious potential as lovers, particularly in the bedroom. They know how to fix stuff, they look good in glasses, they love to stay in and chill, and most of all, they are a treasure when it comes to sex. So ladies and gentlemen, here are the reasons why.

THEY'RE CURIOUS

Gamers, by nature, are curious. They like to explore hidden nooks and crannies of the map and they like to push anything and everything in order to see what happens. Well ladies, you're in luck because who wouldn't want a guy to explore your hidden areas and push your various buttons to see which one's the most 'effective'?

GAMERS DIG ROLE-PLAYING

When gamers step into a game, they become immersed in the mind of the character. They identify with them, they go through the feels with them. It's serious business. They're also way more into cosplaying. So if you're looking for some late-night role-playing to spice up your sex life, say no more, because a gamer is always ready to play the level 50 Paladin saving an elf (or the level 60 orc punishing an elf).

GAMERS HAVE EXCELLENT FINGER CONTROL

Controllers, keyboards, joysticks. Whatever they may be, gamers are great with their hands. They've mastered their finger techniques, and they know when to keep it tight, when to loosen up, when to make the soft touches, and when to press it real hard and fast.

GAMERS KNOW HOW TO MULTITASK

Gamers often have to do multiple things at the same time when they game. And many times their hands will be doing different things. They can easily keep track of it all. Which means they can make one person feel like two in bed.

THEY ARE COMFORTABLE ABOUT TRYING NEW THINGS

Gamers are not only curious, but they're always up for new experiences. While gaming, they always try to find new ways of doing things, and they love surprises when they happen. If the end goal is having more fun, then they're going to be down for whatever you suggest.

LEVEL UP!

THEY CARE ABOUT YOUR ORGASM

A study from 2009 revealed that computer geeks make the best lovers, part of the reason being that they were more caring of their partner's needs in the sack. This isn't surprising, because gamers like to achieve. They like to see that their partner is satisfied. So they're going to try their damn hardest to do that. Everyone knows a gamer doesn't leave a quest unfinished.

THEY JUST LOVE TO HAVE SEX, A LOT

A survey of approximately 2,400 women showed that the gamer types were most sexually active, with 6 times a week on average, the highest number for a category in the survey. The truth is that a gamer is always down to get it on. Besides, games can be paused, but when you're turned on, you need to get it on.

So what are you waiting for? Grab yourself a gamer and start pressing those buttons! Because a gamer sure knows how to have fun, whether it's in-game, or in-bed.

Sex At Your Fingertips: What sexting is really about

Picture that you're a college football player. You fumbled the ball twice, you're missing those passes, and your team is currently losing. This isn't how you imagined the game would go, and you just can't seem to get yourself out of this jam.

Then, during halftime, you receive a text from your girlfriend. She's a cheerleader, and she has noticed that you've been having some tough time out there. She wants to encourage you, help you out in her own way. So she sends you a pic. She's lifting her skirt showing a glimpse of her white panties, while she's got her top down just enough to reveal her supple breasts. There's a message over the picture where she describes what she wants to do to you after the game is over.

You're in for quite a treat after the game. And just that thought pumps you up. You remember how hot you both get right after a good victory. Knowing that, you go back out there, ready to take the fight to the opposing team.

Getting a sexy text is always quite an excitement. Especially between two people in a romantic relationship. Something about receiving a racy text on your phone really gets people going. It’s like your own erotica in progress.

But it is also something that not everyone has tried, and many people shy away from sending spicy texts on their phones, particularly due to problems of reputation management. For instance, what if you send a sext to a partner, but he or she shares that picture with others? What if it’s shared on the Internet for all the world to oggle at? We know that nothing is safe on the Internet.

Echoing this notion, many note the dangers of sexting and how people shouldn’t send sexually intimate material over mobile or the web. A study done by McAfee in 2014 reflects this. It showed that approximately 54% of adults in the US have engaged in sexting. So that’s around half of US adults who don’t sext.

However, there is one particular place where sexting is quite common: college campuses. A study on sexting behavior among college students has revealed that 80% have received a sexy text message, with 67% reporting that they sent a sext themselves. Another survey has observed that most people start sexting between the age of 19 and 29. Meaning that a lot of people get into sexting when they go off to college, which is very understandable. College is a time when hormones run wild, and people can get pretty raunchy. Vast majority of people will be living independently for the first time in their lives when they go off to college. They will also meet more members of the opposite sex (or same sex, depending on sexual orientation) than they have ever met before. This creates a situation where people are willing to try more risky things that will push their comfort zones, especially for the sake of pursuing sexual experiences.

No matter how common it is, many view sexting as negative. There are numerous essays and posts that outline how sexting has destroyed dating for young people in their 20s and 30s. They cite how sexting has something to do with rise of apps like Tinder, where sex is easy fruit, and that all of this is pointing to the downfall of love in general. People tout how digital hook-up culture has taken intimacy out. The Millennials have once again ruined everything.

However, that isn't what is really happening upon closer look. First of all, sexting is not some degenerate abomination that has arisen from the perversion of the youth. It was brought on by technology. The evolution of the smartphone and the ubiquity of technology are the main causes of sexting.

> "It's like your own erotica in progress.

> "Sexting can be a fun way to spice up your love life.

Many people also tend to think that getting a sext might be creepy, awkward, or just unwanted, but that's not the case. A 2014 study on college undergraduates found that 65% of the respondents reported positive attitude toward receiving a sext, that they were excited, turned on, aroused, and etc. Meanwhile, only 20% reported negative attitudes. The rest reported mostly that they were amused by receiving a sext.

Finally, on the contrary to the claims that sexting reduces intimacy, sexting has been shown to be something that's more associated with intimacy. There is a 2016 study that says that people in romantic relationships tend to sext more than those that weren't in relationships (which, is obvious). But moreover it shows that people that felt more comfortable in their relationships sent more sexts. The causality between the two may be more tricky to determine, but nonetheless, sexting has more connection with intimacy between two people.

Like most other sexual behaviors, sexting is not without its flaws. Yes, a sext is risky because information sent within a sext can be shared widely. But to say that you should never send one because you might risk it being leaked is like saying that you should never have sex because you're going to get pregnant. As long as you know the risks, and make an informed decision within your own limits, sexting can be a fun way to spice up your love life. This is especially true if you're someone who is discovering their romantic preferences, like university students.

School is now back in session. People are going back to college campuses from the long pause of summer. They're going to be meeting new people, making new friends, and most importantly, starting new romances. But for all of us, there's one school that never ends: the school of love. So if you're a young student of romance trying to navigate the ever changing landscape of sexual adventures, why not try sexting? It's 2017 after all. Get creative and let technology give you a helping hand in your sex life.

Fantasy FUCK ME

FEATURING

Puma Swede

You may be strict, but you are also a passionate teacher who goes the distance to assure her students are excelling. After a long week, Saturday is finally here but you have a teaching seminar at a convention today to help educate people of all ages about sexual education. You arrive on time, and are feeling confident so you get on stage and set out to conquer.

MV I

The room is filled with people. You take a slight gaze behind the bright lights and see a few familiar faces. You also spot a hunk in the front row and you can't imagine why he would need help learning about sex. You try to push that thought, and you begin by:

A Introducing myself. They are about to have a wild experience with Ms.Swede - if I am going to teach these people the in's and out's (literally), they must learn who I am first before we jump into the fun!

B Asking the hottie in the first row to be your volunteer assistant. You may need some help when it comes to demonstrations after all!

PS I believe in hand on demonstrations more than just talking. Show them how it's done. Plus I get to put my hands on the hunk so it's a win-win situation :)

MV 2

You begin by explaining the female anatomy, and what happens to a woman's body when she orgasms. This leads into plenty of questions from inexperienced young men who are eager to find out how to tell if "she is faking it" or not. You explain some of the signs that an orgasm is real and they begin to understand. At this point, your friendly helper is watching your every move. The way he responds implies that he is inexperienced. He raises his hand and admits that he is a virgin and you:

✓ A Explain that it is perfectly normal and that with a little extra teaching, you assure him he will leave here ready to dive in head first!

B Begin wondering what it would be like to show him the ropes and teach him first-hand because you think being his first fuck is the ultimate thrill!

Sex with virgins is not always a success due to the lack of experience. But I'm not ready to let the hunk slip away totally, so I'd slip him my number and tell him to call me when he has been with at least 5 women :)

MV 3

The whole class is mid-discussion about semen. Students are immaturely laughing about the look and taste and you can't help but wonder how his cum tastes. You slip into a daydream of you sucking his cock in the bathroom and you snap out of it when one of the other students calls on you for advice. A few long conversations and a 101 questions later, it's time for a short break. Everyone scurries from the auditorium to get outside for fresh air. Everyone but the one virgin in the front row staring at you as if he is waiting to be dismissed. You:

A Invite him to join you on break in case he has any other questions that he'd like to keep private (secretly hoping that he asks for a little practice).

✓ B Say nothing. Just walk past him, turn around and signal him to follow you.

I know what I want so I'd signal him to follow and no one dares to say no to a tall Swedish Viking so he'd follow obviously. Then I'd give him a BJ he'd never forget :)

“I just need to get the dick inside of me

MV 4

You are standing together in front of the bathroom door and you can tell by the silence that nobody else is inside. You drag him in by the collar of his shirt and order him to unzip his pants. He complies and seems nervous. You tell him to relax, and you start giving him the first blowjob of his life and make sure it's one he will never forget. Halfway through he asks politely if he can try licking your pussy. Normally you like to be in control, but this time you:

A Let him do his best but only because a good teacher never refuses a willing volunteer.

☑ B Without hesitation shove his face down because you can no longer resist the urge to be his personal tutor.

I get so turned on by sucking cock so I would demand him to - to return the service to to me. Plus he gets extra credits in pussy eating :)

MV 5

With every lick and flick of his tongue you are moaning in ecstasy. There is no way this is his first time eating pussy and you want to say it but you need him to make you cum. Just a few more swirls and you finish hard all over his face. He stands up, wipes his mouth and leaves without saying a word. You:

A Are too shocked to move. You slowly get up and fix your skirt. It's time to get back but your knees are feeling a little weak so you'll wait 5 minutes.

✓ B Pull up your wet panties quickly and hurry back to the auditorium before the students realize their naughty teacher is missing.

But I'd be lying if I didn't say I'd fuck him in the bathroom too. Virgin or not, which he apparently is lying about, I just need to get the dick inside of me LOL...

MV 6

All eyes are on you when you return. It oddly satisfies you that the nameless virgin is sitting in the front row as if nothing even happened. You continue with your lesson for the next hour with so many thoughts running through your mind and when it ends he leaves the building. You:

✓ A Let him go. He won't be your first or your last and you are satisfied with the way things happened!

B Quickly scan the room for other young hotties and see if you can get a phone number to make your plans for next weekend!

A fuck is a fuck and there are new cocks and pussies to be had. When I need it, I'll find it. But I lose phone numbers hahaha...

You may never see him again. You may never know if he was really a virgin or not. But what you do know, is that you love being a sexy teacher and this student gets an A for effort!

XXX PLICIT

Karma_Rx

Introducing Karma_Rx, our newest XXXplicit feature. After joining ManyVids in June, she is already a hot rising MV Star. It's time to find out more about her daring personality and wild ways. Without a dull moment, she will definitely keep you all on your toes!

MV 1. Can you tell us a sexual fantasy that you haven't fulfilled yet?

KR A sexual fantasy I haven't fulfilled yet is that I am on my knees naked on a public street corner. My wrists would be tied to my ankles, and passers-by it would notice me and come over and start fondling me. It would be hot if nobody was really too interested, just like I was a sideshow attraction. Someone would start rubbing their cock across my lips, while someone else started playing with my asshole, and so forth. Not sure if I can ever really live this one out, but it would be amazing!

2. How did you learn to become so comfortable in front of the camera?

I actually am only comfortable in front of the camera when shooting porn, or porn related material! Start asking me questions and I freeze up and start sweating and feel like I'm about to die. I'm very comfortable sexually, always have been. Anything beyond that and you've pretty much lost me.

3. What is it about performing for an audience that turns you on?

Performing in front of an audience turns me on because I love the idea that I'm getting off, and so many guys are also getting off. I like thinking about all the different cocks that are being stroked, and because of me. I'm really kind of fascinated with the cock, like maybe even a little obsessed. LOL.

4. Where is the riskiest place you've ever masturbated?

The riskiest place I've ever masturbated! That's funny. Probably the DMV. I did a squirt show there and was convinced I was going to get arrested. But I've done lots of public stuff. Squirt shows in Starbucks, anal at Del Taco, dressing room shows at Macy's, JCPenney's, Victoria's Secret, and so forth. Plus tons of car shows. Once I was masturbating in front of my work and one of my employees walked all the way up to my window. I about died. And that's just for cam shows. I've had sex in a lot of weird places as well.

5. Outside of work, what type of activities do you enjoy doing most?

Activities I enjoy outside of work. That is hard because I devote so much of my life to work. Probably because I have a sex addiction LOL. But I like reading, I'm in school, and I like spending time with the homeless.

6. What 5 items are always in your carry on when you travel?

Five items that are always in my carry-on when I travel are a dildo of some sort to get off on the plane, books, nicotine, food, and a blanket.

7. Which 3 celebrities would you absolutely love to meet?

3 celebrities that I would absolutely love to meet are Angelina Jolie, Corey Taylor from Slipknot, and Bonnie Rotten!

8. You are about to hook up with your dream partner. What does he/she look like, and what do you do to blow his/her mind?

I don't know what my dream partner would look like. I'm not so big on looks, variety is the spice of life! I'm more interested in how people act. For example, someone who is physically attractive can become extremely unattractive to me very quickly based on the way that they act or the things that come out of their mouth. But anyways, to blow their mind, I would assess the situation and come up with the absolute worst thing that I could do, and then do it. And be unashamed. That usually works in my experience.

9. If you were a superhero, what would your name and power be?

If I was a superhero, I would have the power to read minds, so that I could more thoroughly confuse people. LOL. I don't know what my name would be, probably Karma.

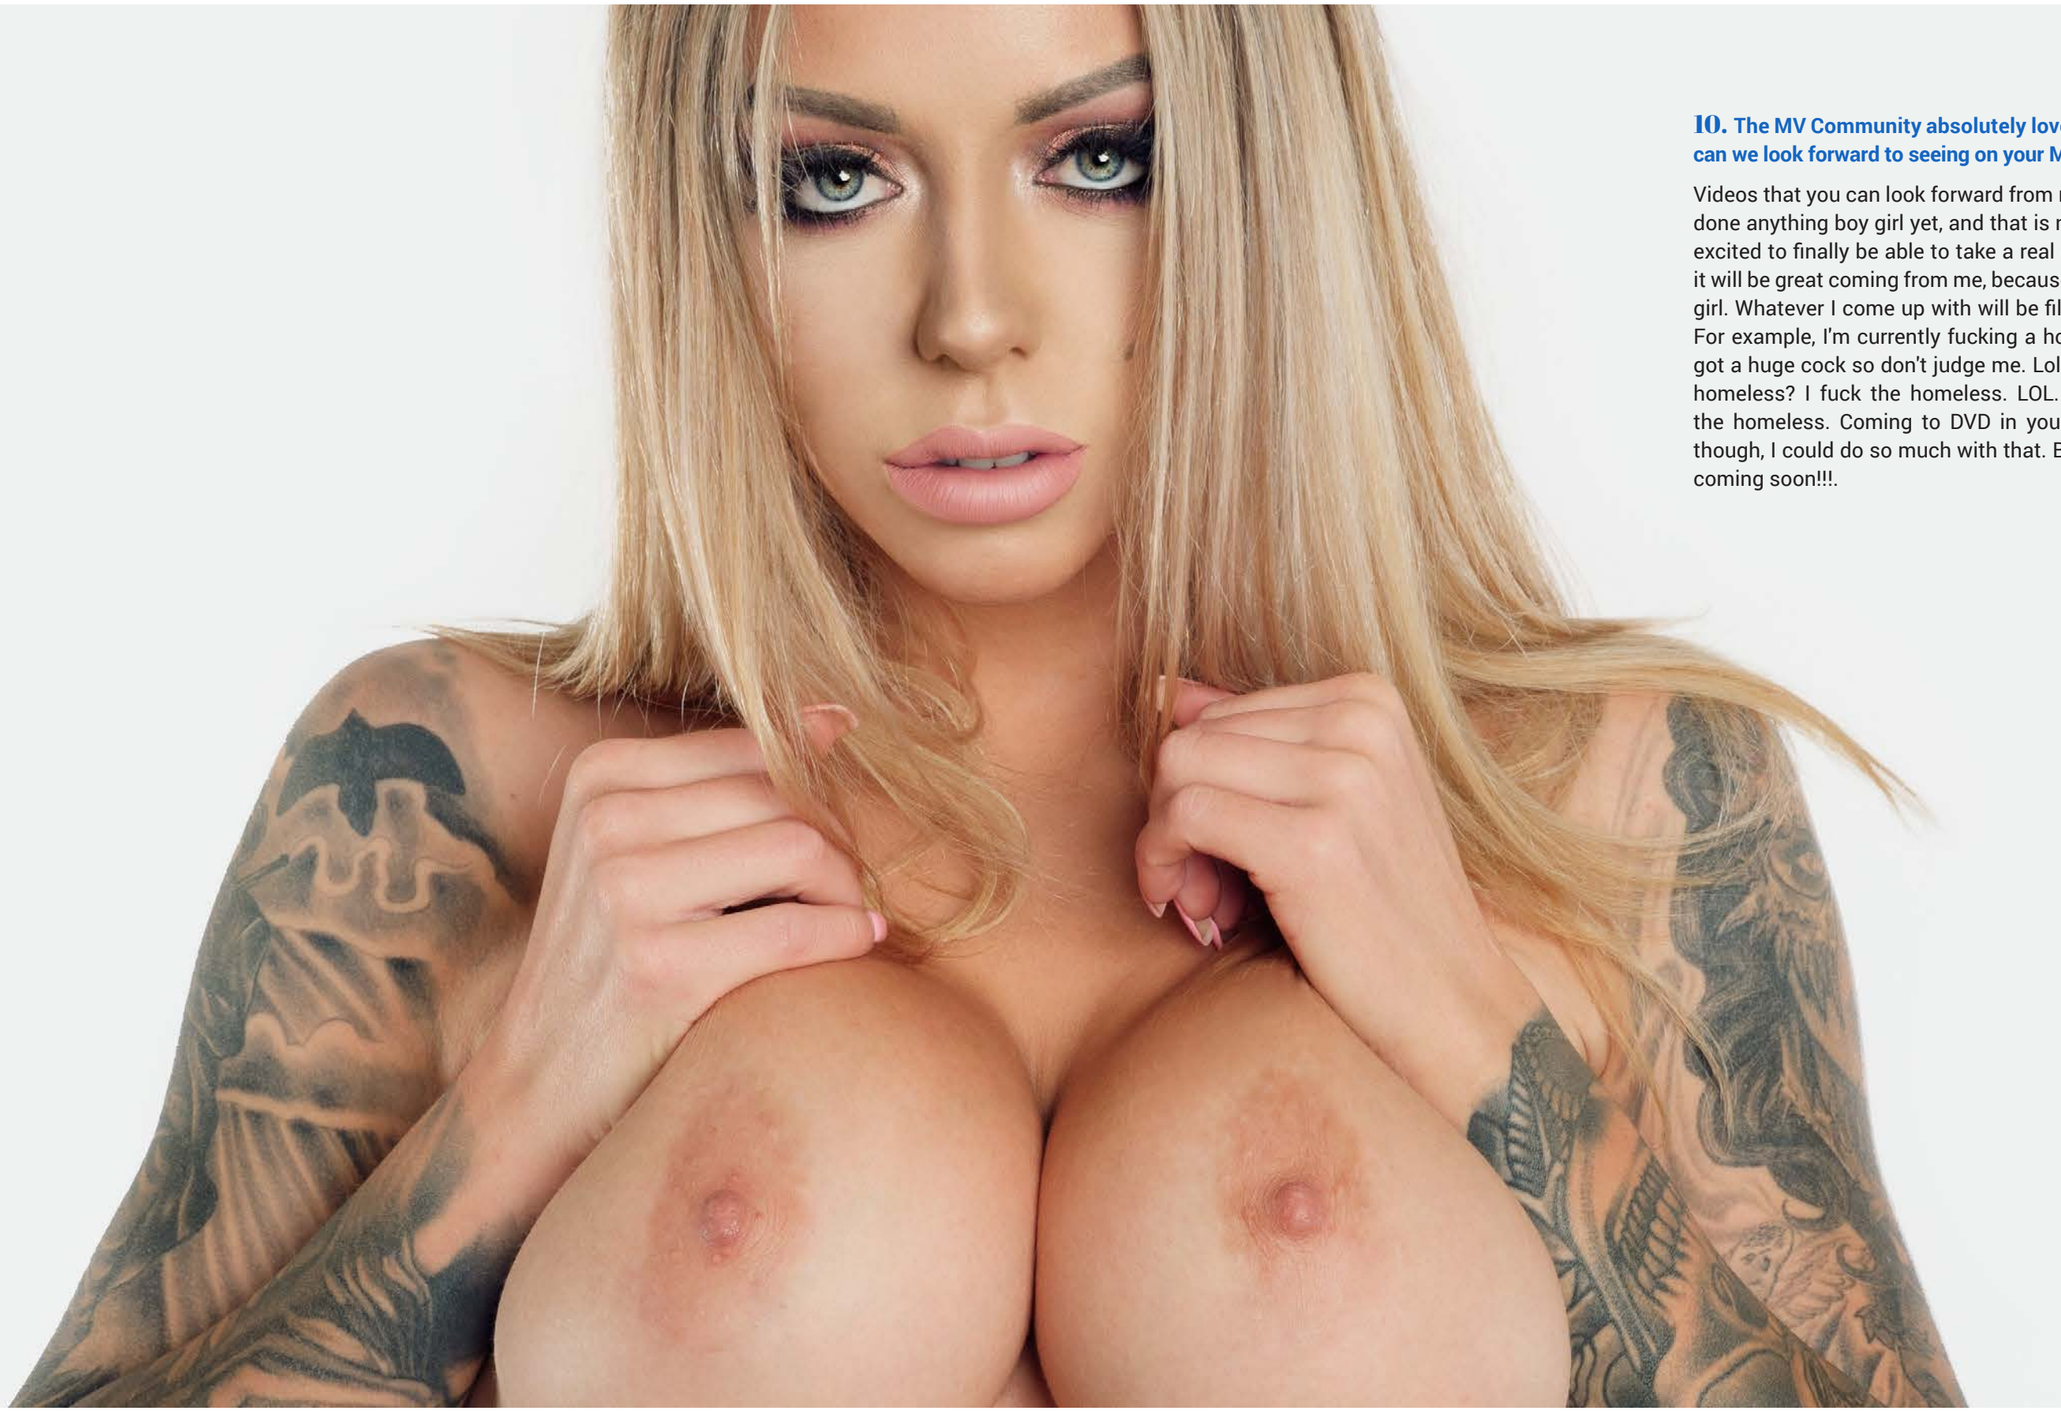
I'm so excited to finally be able to take a real cock on film.



10. The MV Community absolutely loves you. What vids can we look forward to seeing on your MV profile?

Videos that you can look forward from me! Well, I haven't done anything boy girl yet, and that is next in line! I'm so excited to finally be able to take a real cock on film. And it will be great coming from me, because I am a sick, sick, girl. Whatever I come up with will be filthy and amazing. For example, I'm currently fucking a homeless guy. He's got a huge cock so don't judge me. Lol. Oh, you feed the homeless? I fuck the homeless. LOL. Karma Rx fucks the homeless. Coming to DVD in your town. Seriously though, I could do so much with that. But yeah, boy girls coming soon!!!.

11. What are the final words you'd like to leave to your fans?

Final words I'd like to leave my fans. Well, for starters, I fucking love you guys! This has been such an awesome journey, and I love being able to share my filthy mind and body with you! As always, more to come. Get ready to see me taking a real cock like a champ! LOL. Maybe I will do a fuck a fan vid soon. Um yesssss.

LOVE DOCTOR

A new MV advice column here to answer all of your sexual dilemmas! Whatever your issue is, The Love Doctor will see you now!

Dear Love Doctor,

I am a 19 year old college student living in my parents' basement. I'm almost always studying, playing sports, partying, etc. (basically just livin' college life) but whenever I have a moment of free time it's always spent watching porn. I can't help myself. It's so easy to get lost in the endless world of porn on the web. At first I thought it was fine but I'm now

> "finding myself skipping class just to stay home and jerk off."

I recently started spending my tuition money buying custom videos from camgirls. Just when I thought my problem couldn't get any worse, yesterday my mom got home early and found me in the middle of a Skype show with one of my favorite girls in our kitchen. I'm worried that my addiction is taking over and I might flunk the semester because of this. What should I do?

A Compulsive Cummer

Dear Compulsive Cummer,

A man of your age has nothing to be ashamed of when it comes to your sexual appetite. You are not alone. Many young men (and women) tend to masturbate much more than society thinks they should. While I understand that your mother catching you beating the meat can be a little embarrassing, I can promise you that the uneasy feeling will eventually fade. Your mom will forget about the whole thing just as quickly as she can whip up an apple pie. When it comes to spending your tuition on camgirls, the only advice I could offer is to make sure you have a roof over your head and a bite to eat. If you find yourself spending too much, consider getting a part time job. If this is something you really enjoy, don't deprive yourself! You are young. Now is the time to savor the freedom to do whatever makes you happy. After all, what is life if we can't indulge when we want to?

All the best,

Love Doctor

Hey Love Doctor,

This has been one of my most stressful years of college yet. Normally I'd just pour my heart out to my girlfriends about my sex life and relationship problems but in this case, I am stuck in a situation that doesn't allow me to tell anyone what's going on. I'm sorry for burdening you with my problems but I have nowhere else to turn, so writing to you seemed like a great idea. We got a new professor for one of our classes last semester and I couldn't help but notice the way he looked at me. Long story short between the alluring gazes and the obvious sexual chemistry, it wasn't long before he invited me to stay for some extra "tutoring". Fast forward 3 months and we're sleeping together regularly. He fucks me like I've never been fucked before and the orgasms are out of this world. Him being 45 brings a lot of experience to the table though and I can't help but continue to see him. I am worried someone will find out or catch us (he has even crashed in my dorm a few times) but I don't want it to affect my studies. I want to graduate without any problems, but the connection between us is just too real. Is it normal to consider throwing your future (and possibly his career) away for a good dick? HELP!

Faculty Fucker

Dear Faculty Fucker,

I am happy to tell you that you are not a burden and I am always here to help or listen. I would imagine that a lot of people can relate to your situation right now and you are not the first person to fuck a teacher so don't be so hard on yourself. Sometimes the sexual chemistry between 2 people can be too strong to ignore. Succumbing to your urges is a release of pleasure that you can't find anywhere else. It's true that this can hinder your career if you let it but you already know this is wrong - I don't need to tell you that. What's done is done and as a girl, I can understand your love for a good cock. Sometimes what is wrong, feels right. If you guys plan on keeping this up, make sure you keep your relationship under lock and key. Don't get messy and leave traces of evidence and make sure that your priority is hiding it. I would recommend he stop sleeping at your dorm as that is very risky, but if you can find a safe place to meet and keep this from your friends, you should be good. At any rate, strong orgasms and a good night's sleep will help your education soar. Plus it doesn't hurt to be sucking the cock that grades you! No worries, your secret is safe with me!

Regards,

Love Doctor

Love Doctor,

I have a few years left as an undergrad and I want college to be everything I expected and more. So, in hope for a more memorable time here, I recently decided to join a sorority. The rushing and pledging was a long and hard process but the initiation finally ended and I am officially a sorority girl! It's only been 3 weeks and unfortunately for me and my promiscuous nature, I already "accidentally" hooked up with most of my sorority sisters. If there's anything we do best, it's get wild. And, let me tell you - wild we got! I've had lesbian experiences with tons of my friends in high school and I am usually pretty good at pretending it didn't happen and moving on. At our first party I drank too much tequila and ended up fucking my roommate with a strap-on. The next † weekend, we ended up at this guy's dorm (who throws the best parties on campus) and I had a threesome with him and another new sorority girl. With two notches on my belt in 2 weeks, I didn't want to stop. Last night, I planned on making out with 2 of my sisters in front of a full house of horny college dudes just for the fun of teasing, but I ended up staying there until 6am and having an all out FUCK FEST with a room full of people! It was an experience I'll never forget, but I need some advice on how to make sure my reputation is not tarnished until I graduate! What do you recommend?

Love, Sorority Slut

Dear Sorority Slut,

Trust me when I say we've all been there. If someone tells me they weren't a slut in college I would think they were either boring, or lying. Are you keeping up with your studying? Are you showing up for classes and trying your best to achieve good grades? If yes, then who cares? My mother always told me to never be ashamed of your choices, especially since you'll never see most of those people again once you graduate. Don't let anyone break you down or make you feel ashamed of your choices. Also, if everyone there participated in the group sex I wouldn't worry too much about anyone singling you out. Everyone is in the same boat that you are in. And, you're the one who wanted to make your college experience more "memorable" so that will for sure remain one for the books! Of course remembering to practice safe sex is important but so is having fun. If you have a sexual appetite that is hard to satisfy, I would recommend looking into webcamming. It's a great way to express your sexual freedom, enjoy yourself, and earn some extra money for college. Either way, if you're being true to yourself then screw what people say! It never hurts to just live a little.

Sincerely,

Love Doctor
